

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY, Oct. 9—6 P.M.
The stock market has exhibited great strength and fluctuation to-day, and the Erie excitement having subsided, the speculation for a rise has assumed a more modest tone than it has worn for some days past. The rotation which took place at the close of last week created a considerable "short" interest, and greatly stimulated the demand from fresh buyers, and there is now every indication of a vigorous upward movement. There is no change to note in the condition of the money market. Call loans being freely made at 6 & 6 per cent. The tendency towards a further accumulation of funds at this centre was shown by the last statement of the associated banks, the deposits having increased during the week to the extent of $5,143,582, while the loans, notwithstanding the augmented demand from the Stock Exchange, were only increased $4,402,778. The drain of currency Westward and Southward is imperceptible, like the flowing of a small stream from a large lake, although a moderate degree of stringency prevails at Chicago and Cincinnati, but not sufficient to cause any deviation from the usual rates of interest. The amount of commercial paper offered here for discount is very small, and it is freely taken at 6 & 6 per cent. It is probable that a return flow of currency from the West will soon set in, and the drain Southward to move the cotton crop will be inconsiderable.

On the first of the present month we had in circulation $554,674,432 of legal tender notes, exclusive of $27,029,273 of fractional currency and $233,602,908 of national bank notes, against $549,160,560 of legal tenders on the 1st of June, 1865, and $137,173,705 of national bank notes. By this it will be seen that while there is a decrease of $104,483,137 in the amount of legal tender notes, there has been an increase of $153,260,199 in the volume of national bank notes, and thus an actual advance has been made to the circulation of the country of more than fifty millions. Seven millions more of national bank notes remain to be issued, and we are consequently nearing the highest point of our currency inflation, and it will be strange if, under our influence, speculation should not run wilder than it did in the spring of 1864, just before the panic in which so many were chased to ruin.

At the open board at ten o'clock Erie sold at 83½ a %, Michigan Southern 88%, Fort Wayne 100%; and the market, although free from excitement, was firm.
